INCOMING CLASS DRIZMING WITH EXPERIENCE

What do nine military veterans, a truck driver and at least two middle school teachers have in common? They’re all members of the incoming class at the UConn School of Law. Read More...

Book Chronicles Black Experience at UConn Law: Constance Belton Green ’72, the first African American woman to graduate from UConn School of Law, has written a history of the law school’s black students and faculty. Read More...

An-Ping Hsieh Joins UConn Law as Visiting Professor: An-Ping “Ping” Hsieh brings 33 years of experience as a practicing lawyer to a new position at UConn Law: visiting professor from practice. Read More...

Hate Speech, Violence and the Law: Richard Ashby Wilson has spent 30 years studying how societies deal with human rights violations, with a focus on legal measures to address more specific forms of discrimination. Read More...

UConn ‘Angels’ Aid Asylum-Seekers: Students with UConn Law’s Asylum and Human Rights Clinic and UConn School of Social Work assisted detainees inside an immigration detention center. Read More...

Help us make a difference.

ALUMNI PROFILE

Helping people is always the priority for Ramona Mercado-Espinoza ’86. Read more...

ALUMNI NOTES

Ndidi Moses ’05 was installed as president of the CT Bar Association. More alumni news...

FACULTY NOTES

Professor Alexandra Lahav was elected to the American Law Institute. More faculty news...

Celebrate the Alumni Association’s 2019 Award Winners

The University of Connecticut Law School Alumni Association will honor, from left, the Hon. Henry S. Cohn ’70, Karen DeMeola ’96, Charles Luckey ’85, and the Hon. Ingrid Moll ’99 at a dinner on Tuesday, October 15, 2019. In addition, Altheda Alexander ’51, Edie Messali ’10, and Erick Russell ’12 will receive the 25th of the Last Decade Impact Award. Read more...

EVENTS

September 29, 2019, 5 p.m. - 7 p.m. Alumni September Oktoberfest: The University of Connecticut Law School Alumni Association invites alumni and faculty to enjoy live music by King Rambly, local apple cider and a tasty autumn treat. RSVP Now...

October 11, 2019, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. How We Argue Now: The Moral Foundations of Politics & Law: At its annual symposium, the Connecticut Law Review explores moral and political judgment in an era of populism and polarization. RSVP Now...

November 1, 2019, 6 p.m. - 9 p.m. 27th Annual PILG Auction: The Public Interest Law Group offers great deals for a great cause in live and silent auctions. Proceeds support the public interest work of UConn Law students. RSVP Now...

More events...

IN THE MEDIA

Washington Post: Johnson & Johnson ordered to pay $572 million for its role in Oklahoma’s opioid crisis

WNPR: Releasing School-by-School Vaccine Data

Connecticut Mirror: CT offers limited protections if ACA is tossed

Washington Times: Lawsuit wants FEC to take action against Pro-Clinton PAC

Law.com: Should Georgia Bar Licensing Authorities Ask Applicants About Their Mental Health?

ABA Journal: Redacting confidential client information: The devil is in the details

More media quotes...